

ComplyTec Announces Partnership with Cybereason to Bring Total Enterprise Protection and Advanced Threat Hunting to Canada

Ontario, Canada, January 21, 2017 - ComplyTec is pleased to announce a distribution partnership with Cybereason, creators of the first and only proprietary cybersecurity data analytics platform, that includes endpoint detection and response (EDR), next-generation antivirus (NGAV), and active monitoring services. ComplyTec will resell Cybereason's award-winning platform across Canada because of the increase in sophisticated threats and lack of understanding by many companies on how to combat adversaries.

"We chose Cybereason to complement our solutions portfolio because of its Enterprise Attack Prevention Platform proactively hunts and detects cyber threats in real time, protecting our clients from cyber attacks. We believe that Cybereason will continue its leadership in this market and are proud to be members of their Global Partner Program," said Vid Kartavicius, President of ComplyTec.

ComplyTec, a Canadian leader in IT Security Solutions, offers a powerful toolkit enabling its clients' security operations centers to identify and pro-actively deal with cyber-threats. The addition of Cybereason extends ComplyTec's capabilities and brings to the Canadian market a potent cyber-threat hunting capability.

"We are thrilled to partner with ComplyTec, an experienced leader in the Canadian market. This partnership allows us to leverage the company's expanding sales force and outstanding technical leadership to accelerate our growth throughout this important market," says Gregg Henebry, Cybereason, vice president of channels.
